	sponsorship should cost? - James: With the Rebel Yell sponsorship we have to consider: - Mixlr account for commentary (approx 100 per year) - Rebel yell website (I think approx £40 for renewal but would have to check) - Wfcsa website - similar to above - Wfcsa travel website - similar above - Equipment costs as well (I know Pete said we may be getting a laptop) and in case anything breaks throughout the season - Vodafone data charges for commentary We currently charge £150 and with that cost its good value for the promotion they get, so if costs change it should be more not less 2 sponsors at the moment £300 in total.
